Bishop N.L. Thomas | Fresh Impact Church | Austin, TX

“What a privilege it was to attend Harvest and share the Word of God and also participate in the experience of Harvest. I’ve been blessed to preach across the country as well abroad. This year was a special year for me because it is been a great season of rejuvenation as God has restored so many parts of my ministry. What I did not understand; however, is that I possessed enormous zeal to travel and minister, but that I was just burdened with frustration at home. I had attempted so many things that were simply was not working.

After attending Harvest and observing the excellence, structure, and strategies, which you've instituted within your ministry, I believe it reawakened the giant within me to do ministry at the highest level. I went home and began to immediately implement changes. I was shocked because changes that would normally take a long time for our people to implement, we instituted in an expeditious and they have embraced the change. Much of it began after your [Bishop Foreman's] visit to us, but it was further clarified when I came to Harvest.

It may seem as though I was being witty when I suggested that there be some type of program initiated by yourself [Bishop Foreman] & Harvest in helping fix churches that are struggling with strategies, but let me clarify that ever after having experienced the fruit of some of your suggestions and strategies, that I'm further convinced and convicted that this is a needful journey that someday you must embark upon. Bishop, thank you and the people of Harvest that embrace your vision. There is one place (our church) that I can assure you that you have helped and on behalf of all of us we are grateful. Grace and peace be unto you."
